SANDS'S SARSAFARILLA.—The proprietors submit to the colling certificate, from a highly respectable agree, of a cure made by using their preparation of Sarsafalla, which cannot but have the effect of placing beyond arila, which cannot but have the effect of placing beyond floods the curative powers of this medicine:
"New-York, August 3, 1842.
"Messrs Sands—Gentlemen: Under a feeling sense of rating and disease, I now, as an act of justice due to you adwite a view of relieving the afflicted, make known to e world the inestimable benefit I have received from the se of your Sarsaparilla. In the year 1832 I sailed from ingland in a vessel bound for Quebec, and while on the away first discovered the disease which after proved to lea sore affliction; and truly I can say, 'from the crown day head to the sole of my foot there was no soundness in my.' From the time first mentioned down until the present, a priod of more than ten years, I have suffered all that hammature was capable of bearing. I have been under the zer of the most distinguished physicians both in this coungrand in England, visited Bath, Cheltenham, Bristol and described the tried various specifies among others a large your Sarsaparilla. In the year 1832 I sailed from foncester, tried various specifics, among others a large pantity of Swaim's Panacea, used sulphur baths, &c &c. it a last resort I was induced to wrap myself up in tar ointent, keep myself secluded, shunned by all, myself also damning. I was induced to believe my case a hopeless one.

In August last, by the advice of friends, I went to the New-York City Hospital, but was there told that my case was actuable. The disease now enveloped my whole body endering me almost helpless; the skin thickened and racked, and blood and matter ran, and life itself became al-gost a burden. A few weeks since I was induced to use ose a burden. A few weeks since I was induced to use our Sarsaparilla by learing it so highly recommended, awing spent near $3000 without obtaining but little relief (fer using it a short time I found myself better, and now, y using six or eight bottles, costing me less than ten doing, I am well! Yes, I certify and declare to the world us, I am well! at after spending near $3000 in traveling and doctoring, deathering more than can be told, I was perfectly cured using your invaluable preparation of Saraparilla; and now recommend it to all similarly afflicted. Those wishto know farther particulars will find me at my residence 27 Warren-street, N Y, where I shall be happy to councicate any thing in relation to the above cure.

D' Notice.-LIEBIG'S ANIMAL CHEMISTRY .-As advertisement has appeared in several papers from a publisher who is about to issue another edition of Professor Liebig's new work, in which an attempt is made to induce the public to believe that the edition of the Animal Chemis by we have already published is incorrect, and unworthy of public confidence: but that such an assertion is unfound ed, we are fully/prepared by a simple statement of the facts, on, we are inflyprepared by a simple statement of the facts, satisfactorily to prove.

In a circular from Prof. Webster, dated June 26, he states "that the researches of Prof. Liebig not being completed when the publication was commenced in England, rendered it necessary to cancel and reprint many pages." By commencement of publication he undoubtedly means commenced of, and paid for by, the British Association for the advancement of science, it could not be, and was not published until presented to, and read before the Association, which was presented to and read before the presented to, and read before the Association, which was presented to, and read before the Association, which was done on the 24th of June, (see Athenoeum July 2d.) And it is not very reasonable to suppose that, at that date, Prof. Liebig would present his report to that body in an imperfect state, or that that body would allow of the publication of any imperfect or incorrect edition. Now our edition is faithfully reprinted from that report—a copy of which was purchased in Losdon, at open sale, and might have been prechased by any other inclividual, on July 2d. And at the date of the latest advices from Eurone, which are at ureperchased by any other inelividual, on July 2d. And at the date of the latest advices from Europe, which are at present to the 19th of July, no announcement whatever is made of another edition, nor any allusion made to the one then and there current being incorrect, in any of the literary or identific journals which have reviewed it, and drawn conclusions from its statements, and it consequently constitutes the sole European authority for Liebig's researches.

Now, by Prof. Webster's own published statement, it is clearly shown that it is kealone in this country who has received the only imperfect copy, the corrections to which he also states were forwarded to him to Liverpoot to be sent by the steamer of the 19th of Juse, but reached that place just one hour after the steamer sailed, consequently these corrections steamer of the 19th of June, but reached that place just one hour after the steamer sailed, consequently these corrections to his imperfect copy were retained in Liverpool until the next steamer, that of the 5th of July, several days after the corrected Ringlish edition had been published in England, and Prof. W. wishes us to believe that these corrections were withheld from the English edition for the express purpose of making his the only perfect copy, not only in America, but in the world. A comparison of dates, however, will clearly show that if Prof. Webster's statements of publishing the only correct edition, were correct on the 20th of June, they could not apply with the same force or accuracy to the 25th July, the date of his last circular, at which time he stated "that the delay in the appearance of the book here, has been caused by the non-arrival of the last paper," which nulleckily miscarried, and did not reach him until after they had been inserted in the English edition. It would surely require a much larger share of credulity than is usually entertained by the public, to believe that Professor Liebig is so indifferent to his European reputation, that he would allow the only correct edition of his work to come through Prof. Webster's bands, and authorize him solely to publish that which the British Association have generously given to the world. Prof. Lehig has not the power of authorgiven to the world. Prof. Leibig has not the power of author lting its publication any where, as it was purchased from him by the Association. That the translator, Dr. Gregory, may have made some communications of his own to Pro. W., we are ready to believe, but that does not render our w.. we are ready to believe, but that does not render our edition either imperfect or incorrect. Since we have published the corrected copy Prof. Webster will have an opportunity of correcting his own early proof sheets by it, unless be continues to fancy that his "early proof sheets" are the only correctiones. Should it appear, however, at any time, that our edition contains any errors, we will supply the purchasers of it with the corrections gratis.

In publishing this book, we had no intention or desire of interfering with Prof. Webster or any other individual: and it was only after we had considerably advanced in the printing of the work, that we became satisfied of the inten-printing of the work, that we became satisfied of the inten-tion of any other party to publish it; but since the unfair and unwarrantable charges made against our edition have created the impression that we have intentionally sought to paim off upon the public a spurious work, we feel bound in visidication to make this statement of the facts; be ides, we have only presented it as Liebig's authentic work, which it at questionably is, free from alterations, amendments, or editorial incumbrances, and such, we believe, is all that the scientific public desire; the same principle has governed us to this as in all our other publications, namely—to present a faithful, ungarbled copy of the original.

MONEY MARKET.

Sales at the Stock Exchange, Aug. 12. 50 Harlem ... 152 SECOND BOARD.

Commercial and Money Matters. FRIDAY P. M. Compared with the business of the past month there was quite a large amount of sales to-day. The principal sales were of Harlem and Long Island. In the latter there appears to be some symptoms of speculation. It improved to day ! per cent. Mohawk was firm-Farmers' Loan improved }, Harlem declined }, Delaware and Rudson improved 21 per cent on the last sale. For Stonington 171 offered, 18 asked, a slight improvement.

The sales of State stocks were light. Kentucky declined 2 per cent on the last sales. In stocks in which there were no sales the market was if any thing not so well. from the tone of the public mind, it is evident that a return to a depreciated or irredeemable currency is almost impossible. The people will have bills redeemable in coin at command or none, and in this department we shall continue to keep the trade early and fully advised of every movement of moment in the financial circle at the West. During the first week in August, the amount of Western

READ! READ! READ! IF The following notice of "Bible Biography" was written by the Rev. W. C. BROWNLEE, D. D., after a careful examination of the volume. Dr. B. has been long known throughout the United States as one of our most useful. learned and eloquent divines. This candid and impartial review cannot fail, therefore, to have weight with all who are anxious to know the real merits of the work :

"This is, beyond question, one of the most elegant book ever presented to our fellow-citizens, in this Republic. It is ever presented to our fellow-citizens, in this Repinole. It is a volume of 500 pages, containing about 500 engravings of a most interesting character. The paper, the type, the engravings, are all of them such as might enter into a successful competition with any of the finest London publications. It is a superior specimen of domestic fabrication, both external and internal; and it ought, in this respect, to be patronized by every patriotic citizen. But this is the least valuable thing about it. The volume gives as accurate the state of the state views of Eastern customs, habits, manners, animals, scenery and, in addition to statements given in brief, accurate and elegant details, we have every variety of pictorial exhibitions, which at once amuse, interest, delight and passionate. In this volume we have, moreover, admirably well written raphies of all the principal characters mentioned in the Bible. These are selected with taste and singular discrimination from the best authors extant on the subje And there is a crowning excellence in the last hundred pages, where we possess a rich treasury of useful and reli-gious knowledge, carefully contensed and compiled from 'Timpson's Key to the Holy Bible,' a work accessible to very few.

"Mr. Sears' object in presenting this admirable and beautiful volume, ought to be duly appreciated by every minister, parent, and Sabbath-school teacher. His aim is to exter, parent, and Sabbath-school teacher. His aim is to extend the interest of the Holy Bible—to place in the most attractive light its divine truths and boly precepts, by instruction and by captivating example. It is, in fact, to make it paramount, in our youths' estimation, to all other books and all other things—and most captivating in the eyes of the youthful and aged, the beautiful, the gay, the sober, the thoughtless and reflecting. It is designed to set aside as comparatively insignificant the numerous volumes of light reading, and utter vanity, and to displace them, with all their fascinating and tawdry ornaments of types, and plates, and wit, by what is more beautiful in art, and more valuaand wit, by what is more beautiful in art, and more valua-ble in truth, and more lascinating in biography and anecdote. "Hence, Mr. Sears has an honest and imperative moral "Hence, Mr. Sears has an honest and imperative moral-claim for patronage and support, on every minister and every parent, and every Saobath-school teacher, and on every patriot actuated by Christian principles. I have only to add, to all my friends, and to the people of my numerous charge, that there is, perhaps, no other book, recently from the press, which I would, in preference to this heautiful and judicious volume, put into the hands of my children, to cap-tivate their minds and woo them over to the study of the autiquities seeners, biography and divine trulys of the antiquities, scenery, biography, and divine truths of the Holy Bible. It ought to be in every Christian family for its innate value; and in every patriotic family as a splendid specimen of our progress in somestic manufacture, and the advancement of our artists and manufacturers in W. C. BROWNLEE, ship with those of Europe. The above work is for sale at 152 Nassau-st., New-York.
